

WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGNER TO SPEAK SUN. NOV. 28

EDUCATIONAL MASS MEETING

Dr. J. E. Moorland, International Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, is here on the job getting things in readiness for the Y. M. C. A. Building Campaign which begins December 6. Dr. Moorland is one of the oldest men in point of service in the Y. M. C. A. work among the colored people here, and has been only exceeded by Mr. W. A. Huntton. During the last four years a million dollars has been raised for work among colored men and boys. Dr. Moorland has been in charge of these campaigns and it is interesting to know that not a single city has failed to raise the amount needed. It has been the master generalship of Dr. Moorland that has won the Argus reporter, along with the enthusiasm of the local men that has made the ten campaigns so successful in their respective cities.

Dr. Moorland is to speak at the monster mass meeting Sunday afternoon, 10:45 p. m., at Metropolitan Church, corner of Lucas and Garrison Avenues. His subject will be: "The Battle 'Gainst the Strong." This meeting is open to both men and women.

At the recent meeting of the Anniversary Club, the coming campaign of the Young Men's Christian Association was the talk of the evening. Dr. Moorland said that he had many members that they put themselves on record in strong amounts as being in favor of a new building. The Board of Managers have expressed themselves as being very much interested in the enthusiasm that this new project is arousing.

Rev. H. Bayne, D. D., of 2322 Morgan, and his students of the Bible College of Divinity enjoyed an excellent program for the evening of November 22, at First Baptist Church, Webster Groves, rendered by the students of the High School and Normal Departments, who were highly commended for their most excellent work.

Next Monday night will be a special souvenir night at the Keystone Cafe and Bungalow. The Keystone has been the scene of several of the most successful entertainments of the past week. Mr. Mills' artistic cafe is proving quite popular as a meeting place. The best service and an excellent cabaret is always in store for the guests. The management has taken on a holiday air and quite a few parties are already in the organ.

Last Sunday mornnig at 11 o'clock the pastor was heard to say, "The Lord is in his holy temple, let the earth keep silence before him." After which the choir burst forth singing, "Holy, Holy, Holy" and from that time on until the close of the service the spirit of the Lord seemed to have been almost visible.

It is said preached one of the most powerful sermons that was ever delivered in the Metropolitan Church. He also delivered a soul stirring sermon Sunday evening. Sixteen persons united with the church during the day, the choir was at its best, the music was beautiful.

Lee Walters; Mrs. Bishop Willette Toles Clinton; Mrs. Bishop Lucy Bledsoe Caldwell; Mrs. Bishop Hannah Skeen Blackwell. Mrs. Bishop Robert Ransom Alston and Mrs. Bishop Ivy Harris Warren will all appear on the platform to make the announcement for the Mock Conference beginning Tuesday night. There will be a bushel of fun during the Mock Conference at Metropolitan Church. See these female Bishops.

WALDEN ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MEETS

The Walden Alumni Association of St. Louis, met at the residence of Geo. S. Jackson, 3445 Pine St., with Dr. W. S. Brabham in the chair. The program was rendered as follows: by Mrs. Sophia I. Smith, "N

S. Simpson, "How to Bunk Out of a Humili Association," followed by a general discussion. It was decided to meet at the next meeting Dr. Blewett, 2100 N. Louis, could deliver a eulogy on the life of the late Dr. Boone. Dr. Washington. Arrangements were made to have the president of Wake University, Dr. Dargan, visit Louis at an early date. After transacting business Dr. Jackson led the way to the dining room where a tempting collation was served. Mrs. Geo. S. Jackson, The Association adjourned to meet with Dr. C. H. Jones, 43 West Bells Pl., on Tuesday, December 21, at 8:30 p. m.

Wm. W. Thompson, 2746 Lawton Ave., St. Louis, son of C. W. Thompson who died in Texarkana, Ark., in 1910, wishes to locate relatives said to be living in Tennessee.

At the recent examination conducted at the Marquette Hotel by the Missouri State Board of Embalmers, J. Myron Crawford, who has been with Gates and Manuel for a year, made the highest average among the thirty-five Colored, and white applicants that took the examination in anatomy, sanitary science, bacteriology, and embalming.

shed a thorough course of embalming and has passed the State Board Examination with J. W. Hughes.

With the exception of cloudy skies, St. Louisans enjoyed an ideal Thanksgiving day. Appropriate religious services were held at the different churches. Business generally was suspended, and an unusual large number attended church services.

dinner, football game, picture shows, balls, and house parties claimed the attention of most of the people.

Col. Alex. Slater, of Jefferson City, spent Thanksgiving day in St. Louis as guest of his friend, Mr. Chas. A. Scott, 307 N. 15th St. Mr. Slater stated that while his visit was of a social nature he found time to say a good word for Hon. Cornelius Roach, who probably will be a candidate for governor next year.

CHURCH NOTES

Rev. Donovant is able to resume his duties. Rev. Jessie Bowers who has been the pastor of the Baptist Church of Brooklyn, Ill., for eleven years, left last week for Danville, Ill. Alexander Hamilton—“Father of American Credit”

DANIEL WEBSTER says of Hamilton: “He smote the rock of National resources and abundant streams of revenue gushed forth, he touched the dead corpse of public credit and it sprang upon its feet.” No man did more to build the Constitution of the United States than did Hamilton. He took a prominent part in every debate, and worked indefatigably on all the important committees. His genius, individuality and daring foresight are indelibly stamped upon every clause of our National Law—the law under which Americans are guaranteed for all time Religious, Commercial and Personal Liberty. During Hamilton's lifetime he used his great influence to encourage and protect the brewing industry. Among all the Fathers of the Republic none knew better than he that bon-

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLER, Acting Director of Sunday School Course of Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1914, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 20

AMOS, THE FEARLESS PROPHET.

LESSON TEXT—Amos 1:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—If thou hast my word let him speak my word faithfully.—Jer. 23:28.

Among the prophets Amos bulks large. His message (R. C. 787 ?) is most thoroughly modern and its application to our present day problems deserves careful consideration. I read the entire book prayerfully. Chapters 1 and 2 enumerate the sins of the nation and of Israel; 3-6 contain addresses of the prophet; 7:1-13, 10 records his visions and the conclusion; 9:11-15 is a Messianic prophecy. The modern prophet of social service and those who neglect a proper consideration of “applied Christianity,” both ought to ponder well this passage.

I. Jehovah's Lamentation, vv. 1-3. The words of this lesson are those of Jehovah spoken to the house of Israel but apply to all people of all ages. Verse one is a prophecy of the master's grief over the holy city (Luke 13:34; 19:41). Outwardly rich and opulent, in Jehovah's sight the nation had already fallen (v. 2, R. V.) and there “in present times” was to raise her up. Israel is personified as a maiden sorely wounded. Spoken decades before, Israel did fall and has risen no more. But there is a possibility of mercy. There is here a command and a promise and those who obey the command will obtain the promise of life.

To “seek ye me” (v. 4) is to turn the face to him rather than to turn the back. It implies the forsaking of all evil thoughts, passions, desires and ways and to turn unto him who will abundantly pardon (Isa. 55:6-7; Deut. 30:18). There is life for the most outworn and outrageous sinner if he will seek the Lord.

II. The Prophet's Exhortation, vv. 4-9. The places mentioned in verse five had each been made sacred by God's presence and subsequently degraded by idolatry. Bethel especially so. (Gen. 12:8; 28:10-18; Kings 12:29-32). These new religions and the false worshiping were beguiling even the sincere and unwary, hence the warning. We need to beware of the manifold “new cults” lest we depart from the faith of our fathers. America is today standing upon a social and religious crater in many ways similar to ancient Israel. God is either a consuming fire (Heb. 12:29; Mark 9:43-49) to the impenitent or else a minister of grace to those who repent.

Verse seven is a suggestion regarding the rulers of that day and finds far too many counterparts in our own times. In verse 4 Jehovah exhorts the people to “seek him and live.” In verse 6 the prophet utters the same cry. Now (v. 8) the appeal is to seek him because to do so is wisdom. (a) It is he “that maketh the stars.” The earth, yes, everything that is well to be on his side (Ps. 19). (b) He “turneth the shadow of death into morning” (R. V.) (see Ps. 30:5). Who can comprehend the vast host of his saints for whom this has been done? (c) He “maketh the day dark with the night” (R. V.). This he is doing repeatedly. The God who set the day in its turn can also turn it aside; he has done it both past and present.

(d) The Word of Application, vv. 10-15. Sinners always hate the man who rebukes their sin. Scripture is not needed to prove this fact, for we see it today. We are especially warned against the praise of the wicked (Luke 6:26) and any true and upright witness for Christ knows that he is abhorred by those whose lives are crooked. (Isa. 57:18; Rom. 1:10.)

(e) (A. V.) sounds very much like many of the strictures that are being made regarding the acts of some of the just (Acts 7:52), our accusations of bribes, and our neglect of the needy and the poor is all known to God. (v. 12). “Therefore, even as today it is difficult and costly to be just in our courts, even as iniquity is rapidly growing in the earth, about all the prudent man can do is to hold his peace, wait upon the Lord, and watch for him. He who must call with trumpet voice (Isa. 58:1) even though he does not speak with human lips. The fourth exhortation to “seek” (v. 14) is to search after the good, though the time be an “evil one.”

True goodness is to “hate evil and love the good” (Ps. 37:10; Rom. 12:9). By this test we may know if we really hate sin, if we are truly righteous. We have churches and lack reverence, we have preachers but are not sufficiently conscious of our weak morals; we hear sermons yet our faith is flabby.

We can get on without armies and navies, stripes and submarines, kings and legislators, yet lacking in all of the conveniences of modern civilization, but we cannot get along without our courts, our armies and our navies.

Daily Bible Reading

By REV. HOWARD W. POPE

Evangelist and Bible Teacher, Eastern District of the Methodist Episcopal Church

TEXT—Give attention to reading—1 Timothy 4:13.

How one shall read the Bible depends largely on what he is reading it for. The Bible is an all-around book, and serves many purposes, but it is not to be read in mind some definite purpose in all one's reading.

There is the devotional use of the Bible. All stringed instruments quickly get out of tune. The action of the atmosphere and the constant vibration in play when the strings so that they need to be retuned very often. Man is like a violin. He soon gets out of tune with God. The wear and tear of life, and the demoralizing atmosphere which sin creates, so affects his disposition that he needs to be brought into harmony with God every morning. It is not surprising, when we consider the subtlety of sin, and the weakness of the flesh, rather it is Strange that a harp of a thousand strings. Should keep in tune so long. Nothing will bring the believer into touch with God so soon as a little taste of the Divine Word. For devotional purposes the Psalms are perhaps the best, because they cover so wide a range of experience. Here we find aspiration and confession, joy and sorrow, adoration and praise. Here we behold the calm confidence which grows out of a sublime faith. “The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.” Again we meet the bitter anguish which comes from ingratitude, or unrequited love, or the stay of sin forgiven as in Psalm 32, or the passionate plea for mercy in Psalm 51, or the shout of triumph in Psalm 136. It is doubtful if there is any experience in life for which we cannot find a duplicate in the psalter, and, noting how the man after God's own heart behaved in his emergencies, we are unconsciously led into the same feeling.

In the morning read Psalm 119, and at even Psalm 8. If you are going on a journey, Psalm 121 is appropriate. If it be Sunday, 122. If in perplexity, read Psalm 37. If you are grieved, choose 106, 108, or 107. If your heart needs refreshing, Psalm 139 will accomplish it. O Lord, thou hast searched me and known me; and after a sublime ascription of God's omniscience, closing with the prayer which only an honest heart can utter: “Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me and know my thoughts; and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting.” If it is comfort you need, you will find it in abundance in either of the following Psalms, 34, 91 or 103.

The gospels are also excellent for devotional reading, because there we come in contact with the words and works of Jesus. We see how he lived in the home and by the wayside, in the carpenter's shop, by the open grave. We see him in public life and in private ministry always the same, never hurried, nor worried, always thinking of others and never of himself. We see him playing with the children, watching the hens in the door-yard, and the birds on the trees, the growing grains and fading flowers. In everything he saw God's love and care, and from all things natural he drew some spiritual lesson for his own and others' comfort.

If it be asked how much one should read at a time for devotional purposes, let me answer with an illustration. I once read a story of a disciple on the way to Emmaus. The master has just left them and the two are looking at each other in glad astonishment. One of them is holding both hands over his heart as he says with rapture, “Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures?” He can almost feel his heart burn still as he recalls the memory of that blessed walk.

If you ask how long one shall read his Bible for devotional purposes, I answer, read until your heart burns, until your soul thrills with the consciousness of God's approval. You may read a chapter or a book or a single verse, no matter how much or how little, but read if you can, until you are consciously in touch with God, and then, with the father's morning kiss upon your lips, you are ready to meet the outside world.

Some people feel that they cannot spare the time for this morning walk, but I question whether any child of God can afford to do without it. Our souls need to be fed daily as well as our bodies, and the Bible is the soul's proper food. “Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.”

OUT OF TOWN NEWS.

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILLINOIS

The local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People held the annual election recently and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. W. H. A. Barrett; vice-president, Dr. H. E. Bolden; secretary, Miss M. V. Campbell; treasurer, Mr. R. M. C. Green; members of the Executive Committee, Prof. J. W. Hughes, B. E. Bowles, Dr. F. D. Halsey and Rev. I. S. Stone. A public installation will be held later at which time it is hoped that several distinguished visitors will be present.

Memorial services commemorating the death of Dr. Booker T. Washington were held at Lincoln High School last Wednesday. The program consisted of a few well selected remarks by the principal, Prof. Hughes, a short address by Prof. A. M. Jackson, a paper by Mr. Elmer Brown and an address by G. C. Anderson.

The theatrical season opened at the Gem Theater this week with the Goshawk Washington players as the first-class show. And in addition to this, first-class pictures are shown each evening. The management is trying to give the Colored people a good show.

A revival is going on at St. Luke A. M. E. Church. The players are the evangelist and great success is reported.

Mr. Newsome, chief engineer at Wilberforce University and Prof. B. F. Bowles were pleasant visitors at Lincoln School last week.

ALTON NEWS

Memorial services were held Sunday evening at the Union Baptist Church and at Campbell's Chapel Monday evening. Special programs had been arranged for these meetings which had been well advertised and a large and appreciative audience was present at each church to do honor and pay their respect to our departed hero and leader. Palestine Temple No. 65, Knights of Tabor was set up at Russell's Hall, Wednesday afternoon, November 17. In the evening, Sir Knight L. E. Finnie, C. G. M. of Cairo, Ill., spoke on the Good of the Order, at the Union Baptist Church. After the lecture the Daughters of Tabor served a splendid lunch which was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. M. E. Elkins was called to Allenton to attend the burial of a sister. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Givens was partly destroyed by fire last Saturday. Mr. Givens, who has been very ill, is much improved. Medames J. B. Labadie and Sarah Johnson who have been confined to their room for several weeks are convalescent. Miss Rachel Minter is on the sick list. The First Baptist Church is celebrating its 40th anniversary.

CARTHAGE, MO. NOTES

By Cora Tinnon

Mr. B. T. Ross, 810 Valley St., left Thursday for Boxy and other points in Oklahoma and Kansas. He is a successful business man, engaged in the stone cutting and monument business. Medames J. B. Labadie is able to be at school again. Prof. James Scott and wife gave a goose dinner Sunday, having Mr. and Mrs. Ealey as their guests. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Webb, of Fulton St., fell and broke her arm, while jumping rope at school. The M. E. Church held its third Quarterly Conference Sunday. Rev. Harris, D. S., presided. Mr. Johnson, of Highland Avenue, is up again after a severe attack of typhoid. Miss Josie Leonard, of Orner St., is having some papering in her beautiful home. The parents' meeting will be held at the Lincoln School. Prof. H. V. Wallace is principal, and Prof. R. Penn is supervisor of manual training department. Miss Wallace is in charge of the grade classes and sewing, and Miss Freda Robbins teaches domestic science. These teachers are doing good work and deserve great credit. Miss Marie Wood, one of our bright young ladies and ex-teachers, who is pursuing a course in college at Pitts, Kan., is expected home for Thanksgiving. Mrs. Victoria Clay Haley, Royal Grand Matron of the Eastern Star Chapter, is making her yearly visit and gave one of the best lectures that we have ever heard. Subject, "The Call of the Hour." She proved herself to be a great race woman and a great orator. The ladies of the Eastern Star gave a musical and a chicken supper at which Mrs. Haley was guest of honor.

ST. GENEVIEVE, MO. NOTES

By Miss Gertrude Jacobs

Mr. Daniel Ward and family spent a few days of last week with his son, Joseph Ward. Mrs. Virgil Wilson returned home Sunday evening after having visited friends in St. Louis. Mr. Joseph Ward gave a dance at his home on West Market St. last Saturday evening. All reported a good time. Mrs. Marie Lewis, Misses Evadne Lewis, Gertrude Jacobs and Messrs. Gus Ward and Valentine Lewis spent Sunday at Minnith, Mo., with Mr. Charles Swink and family. The members of the Mothers' Club of Lincoln School are preparing to conduct "For Love or Money" during the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. James Madison are rejoicing over the recent advent of twins. Miss Bertha Cave, who has been ill, is now convalescent. The November number of the "Missouri School Journal" contains a very timely article written by Prof. R. S. Cobb. The Booker Washington Literary Society of this city held Memorial Exercises for the late Dr. Washington Wednesday afternoon at Lincoln School.

JACKSON, MO. NOTES

By Miss Etta Wade

The Stewardess of the A. M. E. Church gave an entertainment Friday night. Rev. S. S. Pitterer went to Cape Girardeau to assist Rev. Smith with his Quarterly Conference. Messrs. Herbert Eulinger, Willis Beals, John Smith and Lewis King went to the "Cape" Sunday. Messrs. Claude, Ursula and Paul Young were at Jackson Sunday. Mr. Alonzo Miller is going to add a dining room to the rear of his restaurant, which is very up-to-date in its appointments. Read the Argus.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, MO. NOTES

By Miss H. N. Jones

Mrs. Nancy Farrar, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Flora Young, at Blysville, Ark., returned home last Sunday, reporting a very pleasant stay. Mrs. Clara Harrison, of Carman, Ill., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Davis. She expressed herself as being much pleased with her new home. Wednesday night more than eighty members and friends of the A. M. E. Church, at the close of the prayer service, surprised the pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. M. S. Smith with a storm party. When they returned home they were escorted to the dining room where the table was laden with about twenty dollars worth of edibles. Rev. and Mrs. Smith are loud in their praises of the generosity of Cape Girardeau. Mr. Wm. Farrar returned home from St. Louis Saturday for an indefinite stay. Club No. 2 of the Baptist Church gave an entertainment Tuesday, on which occasion a second chance was given to the one holding the lucky number to obtain the beautiful sailor lamp which was offered as a prize a few weeks ago. Mr. Philip Miller was the lucky recipient. Sunday was the first Quarterly Meeting day since the new pastor has been installed. A deal of spiritual enthusiasm was manifested throughout the day's services. The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Jones and left a beautiful ten pound girl.

KINLOCH NOTES

By Miss Estelle Williams

Mr. P. Blue is slowly improving. Mrs. Estelle Williams was elected Mother Nature of Queen Esther Circle. The M. E. Church membership is having the "trip around the world." The First Baptist Church will give a grand concert on November 27. Mr. Robert Carter, one of the old veteran soldiers, who has been stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Willard for some time, left Sunday for Washington, with Miss Dayne Baker, Bridgeton, Mo., where he will make his home with his son, Mr. W. Carter. Mr. Robert Carter will be missed in our home.

FARMINGTON NOTES

By Miss Dayne Baker

At Douglas School at noon Wednesday memorial services were held for our deceased hero, Booker T. Washington, with Miss Dayne Baker presiding. The portrait of this noble man was properly draped and it seemed for that period of time that even the air about was filled with solemnity. The student body sang appropriate selections. The speakers were Revs. Spurlock and Reynolds, Mr. Chas. Baker and Mr. P. M. Cayce. Mr. Samuel Burke and Miss Sophia Mudd assisted in the musical selections. Though dead we feel that he will ever live in our hearts as his great and wonderful deeds. Another episode is added to Negro History. Miss Bessie Hunt is the guest of her brother, Mr. Leroy Hunt, of St. Louis. Mrs. Jno. Franks entertained Miss Frankie Jenkins, of Minnith, Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Benjamin Chapel, Orville Hoppel and Misses Ida and Mildred Chapel attended a birthday dinner Friday which was prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Douthitt in honor of their son, Mr. Wesley Douthitt, Jr. Mr. Douthitt returned to St. Louis Sunday. Miss Dayne Baker was relieved from duty Thursday and Friday and was given a chance to visit the schools of St. Louis. Miss Baker feels greatly benefited through such an opportunity. The teachers spoke very commendably of Vera Brooks, Wm. Wright and Booker T. Baker, ex-students of Farmington. The "Work and Win Club" had a successful concert at the A. M. E. Church Friday night.

"BROTHERS AND SISTERS," IN REALITY

In his address before a large audience last Sunday at the dedication of Wheatley Branch, Y. W. C. A., the first words that Dr. William J. Williamson spoke were "Brothers and Sisters," and this salutation was repeated throughout his discourse. He impressed us as a man of strong personality, great magnetism and intense aggressiveness for the cause of right. He is a gifted speaker and a natural leader of men.

While listening to his eloquent words our mind reverted to the days that tried men's souls, and the cordial and fraternal notes of his remarks stamped him as a man of Henry Ward Beecher's calibre. Will Dr. Williamson, like the noble Beecher, espouse the Negro's cause against the measures now pending? If he does what a strong advocate he will prove to be against segregation!

There are thousands of good white friends who wish the Negro well, but who are not vitally concerned about the issues which affect his civic welfare and prosperity. At this particular period we note with interest every expression of good will and esteem from the white man to the Negro, and in these days of civic strife and confusion we need men—strong men of Dr. Williamson's type—who will boldly and fearlessly attack the evil and vicious legislation against the Negro now pending; men who will denounce this scheme projected against a despised race in this tidal wave of segregation which threatens to sweep over our city. We need men who are strong in their determination to resist this evil enterprise born in the poisoned soil of hatred and prejudice. We need men who will unhesitatingly and unequivocally expose its evil tendencies to everyone he may influence.

Will Dr. Williamson, like Henry Ward Beecher, pick up the gauntlet in our defence and tell the members of his church and his fellow members that he feels the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man so strongly that he recoils against and condemns a measure which aims to infringe upon the right of even the humblest citizen? We feel assured that this must be his attitude toward the Negro race, if his speech on last Sunday afternoon is an index to the sentiments of his heart. Andrew Jackson once replied to a wily lawyer who was seeking to draw from him the admission that he was of a fiery disposition,—"Sir, I am the natural enemy of scoundrels." Will Dr. Williamson aid us in arousing the good citizenship of St. Louis—who are the natural enemies of oppression and repression of aspiration, who are the natural enemies of all that would retard the progress and development of our city—to the fact that a radical element of her population is seeking to deprive American citizens of their "inalienable rights" in the pursuit of happiness?

THE RIFT IN THE CLOUDS

On the Negro question in the United States, the rift from which light shines from behind the clouds is Chief Justice White.

His appointment by Taft threw a wet blanket over the aspirations of the American Negro, and Taft was soundly and roundly abused because Justice White was a Southerner and had fought for the success of a Confederacy that was founded on African Slavery and had Negro inferiority as the corner stone of its structure.

But Chief Justice White was not long on the Supreme bench before he rendered a decision setting aside the decree of the Supreme Court of Georgia. This decree denied the Negro's right to use the name or wear the emblems of the Knights of Pythias. Chief Justice White set aside this decree, and the rights of the Negro Pythians of Georgia remain intact.

This was the first decision favorable to the Negro that was ever handed down from the Supreme Court. Chief Justice White followed this line of thought consistently when, a few years later, he declared the "Grandfather Clause" in the Constitution of Oklahoma, too, unconstitutional and null. And now we wait, not with bated breath, for some of these barbarian segregation laws to reach his court for final action.

It was Saul of Tarsus who took the Christians to Damascus to scourge them and on his way saw a great light in the clouds.

It was Abraham Lincoln, born amidst the Negro-hating "poor white trash," who made himself the great man of American history in setting them free.

It was General Joe Wheeler, who fought four years to fasten the fetters perpetually upon the Negro, that afterwards commanded Negroes in the Spanish-American War and pronounced them among the bravest and best disciplined soldiers on earth.

We have this rather contradictory condition in the manner in which the Supreme Court is constituted: Justice White, ex-Confederate of Louisiana, presiding, deciding to prevent the dismantling of Negro Pythianism, and, on the other hand, Associate Justice Holmes, descendant of abolitionists, of Massachusetts, dissenting and agreeing with Georgia that a Negro has no right to be a Pythian; also, afterwards, Associate Justice Holmes presiding and handing down an opinion that the "Jim Crow" cars of Oklahoma are constitutional.

We can see in this swinging around of men a change that will make the first last and the last first, and, like the cloven tongues of fire at Jerusalem, it will bring the happiest results for all mankind.

THE ST. LOUIS ARGUS

SEGREGATION A FAILURE

Segregation is a failure. It is a failure so far in Baltimore. The courts of Maryland have put the brand of unconstitutionality upon it twice, and, in the third effort, it has big signs of failure. It has also failed at Atlanta and Richmond; it is still pending in the courts at other places but must finally be pronounced unconstitutional and inoperative. It will also be a failure in St. Louis, if it is ever attempted here. The Constitution of the United States, as well as the several constitutions of the states, covers and protects both races in their right to sell or occupy their own possessions. For time immemorial it has been a common and a written law that the states cannot direct the disposition of individual property, except in cases where the public welfare or health may require it. Nor can a race or individual be restricted for residential purposes and confined to any particular street or corner of a city.

Segregation has become an impending danger in St. Louis, and it behooves every Negro to register January 25 and cast his vote against it February 29.

REV. G. W. SMITH

PROVIDENCE BAPTIST NOTES

Rev. G. W. Smith, D.D., former pastor of Providence Baptist Church, was called from labor to reward at 2 a. m. Tuesday morning, November 23, in Philadelphia, Pa.

His body was shipped to St. Louis and the funeral will take place at Providence Church, corner of Kennedy and Pendleton Aves., Monday morning, November 29, at 11 o'clock. Dr. Smith was a great evangelist and master church builder, having erected 11 churches at a cost of $91,000, the last on the list being the Providence Baptist Church, of St. Louis. These buildings will stand as lasting memorials to his faithful labor and sacrifices.

Few ministers possessed his constructive genius in this line of work. The pastor and members of Providence Church extends an invitation to the ministers of all denominations to be present at the funeral.

Rev. E. W. Isaac, D. D., corresponding secretary of the National Baptist B. Y. P. U. Board, of Nashville, Tenn., was a life-long friend of Dr. Smith and will be present at the funeral.

Dr. Smith left St. Louis the latter part of September to engage in evangelistic work in the east.

The body was taken directly to Gordon's Undertaking Parlors on Morgan St., upon its arrival in the city, where it will remain till Sunday night, and at the close of the services at the church, Sunday night, it will be brought to Providence, where it will lie in state till after the funeral, Monday.

Rev. D. J. O. Griffin, of Paducah, Ky., will arrive in the city next week to engage in revivistic services and soul-winning at Providence Church, Monday night.

To hear him once it means that you will hear him again. Every member of Providence should be at their post every night during the meeting.

Dr. Griffin is a sound gospel preacher and a Christian gentleman. Please do not forget that the revival will begin Sunday, November 28, Covenant Meeting at 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. Lord's supper at 3 p. m. Preaching by pastor at 8 p. m.

CUT YOUR HAIR BILLS IN HALF

You can cut your hair bills in half by buying your hair goods from me. People often ask how it is possible for me to give such good values for so little money. The reason is simple: I am a direct maker to agent and dealer, which plan leaves out all middlemen and their profits. My large production cuts down the cost of manufacturing and selling direct to agents and dealers cut down selling costs. I have no salesmen to whom I must pay a salary and expenses.

Each article is made of the finest quality of hair and the workmanship is the very best.

Become my agent and cut the cost of your merchandise and make the profit yourself.

NEW METHOD TO REMOVE GREASE FROM HAIR AFTER TREATMENT

Miss Daisy English, proprietress of the Modern Hair Dressing Parlor, at 1822 N. Pendleton, has discovered a method for treating the hair which leaves it fluffy and greaseless, giving a natural effect. The preparation is absolutely harmless and is a boon to many ladies who have heretofore objected to hair treatment because of the greasy after-effect. Miss English uses the Molar system, gives first treatment, on ordinary work, for 50 cents, and box of oil free. She reports a constantly increasing business and offers tempting inducements to young ladies who wish to demonstrate her new preparation.

Fashion Gossip

EMMA AND BESSIE DISCUSS THE FRAU FRAU BALL

My Dearest Emma:

As I have not heard from you in some time, I am writing to know what is the matter and to urge you to let me hear from you at once. Well, I must tell you of the delightful time I had at the dance given by Frau Frau's. Did I have a good time? I had the best time of my life. Of course, woman-like, you want to know what every one had on, it would take too much time to tell of each and every one. Dame Fashion's capricious fancies were demonstrated in each particular by the girls. The short dresses were a joy to the young men, who could dance without fear of stepping on their partner's dress. That reminds me, there was one young man whose trousers were so short and the whole suit so tight, I thought every time he danced something would happen. Say, Em, he must have been out in a shower in that "please-don't-rain-on-me-suit." George took me and he certainly looked swell. He stood me on the q. t. that he had consulted H. A. Smith, Tailor and Haberdasher, at 2123 Market Street on the correct dress for the occasion. I just have a few minutes to catch the car to Kirkwood, so bye, bye.

Yours lovingly, Bessie.

Dear Bessie:

Your letter just to hand. Clara was here and I read it to her. She attended the Frau Frau Ball and says all the girls are coming to the dance for wearing gloves. There is no danger of their dresses getting soiled by perspiring hands. I hope all the men who had on dirty, soiled, informal dress. George Washington's time would consult H. A. Smith, Tailor and Haberdasher, at 2123 Market Street, for correct styles for formal and informal dress. Smith is up-to-date. He has some dandy effects in black and white shirts, ties, socks and vests for the Novelty Party. He has a surprise in store for you in my costume. Do write real soon again to your loving friend,

Emma.

You will miss a grand treat if you fail to hear the drama, "Cafe de Luxe" at the Booker Washington Theater, Saturday afternoon, December 4, for the benefit of the Mound City Social Settlement. Program begins at 1:30 p. m.

Miss M. B. Berry is making applied agents for the M. B. Hair Grower in many different little towns. She will leave this week for St. Charles.

Mrs. Mabel Warrington, of 1128 N. Jefferson Avenue, has been indisposed for several weeks. She will be glad to have her friends call.

Mrs. Minnie Harvey, of 2625 Wash St., entertained with a five-course dinner Monday, November 22, in honor of Mrs. Daniel Hunter, formerly of this city, now of Eskridge, Kansas. Mesdames present were Mrs. Bohannon, Mrs. Bush, sec.; Mrs. Eddie Teitel, treas.; Mrs. Teitel, chap.; Mrs. N. Richardson, chairman of the flower committee, with Mesdames Nellie Morgan, Daisy Morris, Willie Morgan as assistants; Mrs. Robt. Ransom was elected reporter. DIED

Many St. Louis friends will be shocked and grieved to hear of the death of Charles B. Drew, actor and musician of the famous "Dreadnoughts." He succumbed to the "grim reaper" at Lake Charles, La., on November 9. He formerly lived at 1006 N. Leffingwell.

Died

Harry McKoin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. McKoin, 2906 Lawton, died Thursday morning. Funeral arrangements had not been made.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our darling sister, Mildred Arnett, who departed this life November 18, 1913.

Thy voice is on the rolling air,
We hear thee where the waters run.
Thou standest in the rising sun,
And in the setting thou art fair.

What art thou, then? we cannot guess,
But though we seem in star and flower,
To feel the same diffusive power.
We do not therefore love the less.

Our love involves the love before;
Our love is vested passion now.
Though mixed with God and nature thou,
We seem to love thee more and more.

Far off thou art but ever near,
We have thee still and we rejoice.
We prosper, circled with thy voice,
We shall not lose thee, though we die.

Sadly missed by father and sisters.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear sisters, Francine McCall-Washington, who died October 3, 1915, and Katie McCall who died November 30, 1914.

We miss you, dearest sisters,
More than words can ever express,
The memory of your happy smiles,
Fills us with loneliness.

And yet we know that you are where
Joy and bliss and love abide,
In all our dreams we see you, dear,
An angel by your side.

We remember you daily in our prayers,
And beg our Saviour, dear,
To finally join us all once more,
In heaven, when we leave here.

Sadly missed by parents, husband, sister and brother.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our daughter, sister, Quentin A. Matison, who departed this life, November 29, 1913.

Two long years have passed,
Still we are grieved for you,
Happy without we cannot be,
So go often to your grave,
Lingering there, trying to be brave,
Till go away and leave you there.

Sadly missed by father, mother and brother.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our dear mother, Susie Bragg, who departed this life November 23, 1913, two years ago.

Silently the shades of evening, gather round the door;
Silently they bring before us, that dear face we see no more.
Rest in peace, your cares are ended;
Rest in peace, your work is done;
You are gone and those who love you, now are coming, one by one.

Sadly missed by husband, son, daughters, granddaughters and grandson.

Josephine Bragg.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

IV.—F. A. Vanderlip

On the Business of Banking

The farmers of this nation to come into their own must study business. We must, as a class, understand the fundamental principles that underlie every industry, its functions to society and its relation to agriculture. For there can be no intelligent co-operation without understanding. Mr. F. A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, when asked, "What is a bank?" said in part:

"The first and most familiar function of a bank is that of gathering up the idle money of a community, small sums and large, and everyone receiving a check time to time upon which reasonable persons may draw as they have temporary use for money. It is evident that this makes large sums in the aggregate available for the employment of labor and the development of the community. But much more is accomplished than the use of the money actually deposited in the banks, for by the use of drafts, checks and bank notes the efficiency of money is multiplied several times over. A very large actual money on one side of its bank account will be entered the checks and drafts it is daily receiving from everywhere in payment for meats, while on the other side will be entered the checks it draws in payment for cattle, etc., its only use of money being for small payments, to labor and otherwise.

If there were but one bank in a community and everybody paid all bills by drawing a check on that bank, and everyone receiving a check time to time deposited it in the bank, the amount of money in the bank would not change at all and the entire business of the community would be settled on the books of the bank. And the situation is not slightly changed when there are several banks, for they daily exchange among themselves all checks they receive on each other, which practically offset themselves. This is called clearing. The balances are paid in cash. This is called clearing. In every town there is a 'Clearing House' where representatives of the

QUICK SERVICE Laundresses' Express

The manager of the Quick Service Express for a number of years has noticed the hardships experienced by women who are compelled to use the street cars, as a conveyance of their washings and from their homes. The Quick Service Company is prepared to save you from these hardships, such as waiting for cars in rain and snow, hanging on strap of a crowded car, while the basket of clothes remain on rear platform and the many other things too numerous to mention. We are prepared to cover all parts of the city. We not only save you car fare, but will save you valuable time.

Our wagons are covered, dust proof and arranged to hang certain clothes so delivery will be safe, and guaranteed against loss or damages. Our prices are reasonable. Bundles delivered from 5 cents up to 40 cents to any part of the city. We will collect if parties desire. For further information, call Bomont 1102, or write Quick Service Express Co., 2622 Bernard St.

MOORE'S CHICAGO FOLLIES
PLEASE BOOKER WASHINGTON
THEATRE PATRONS
Company Presents a Show Building
Over With Good Music

Tim Moore and his Chicago Follies opened at the Booker Washington Theatre Monday night in a new musical comedy entitled, "Lost in Africa." The presentation is pleasing to the theatre patrons and is drawing crowded houses nightly. The play is bubbling over with musical numbers, its chief asset, the chief being right with good, well-trained voices. The lady members are Carla, Gertie Moore, Misses Arcola Blanks, Mary White, Frankie Hatter and Eva Harris. This quintette opens the show, singing, "Summer Moon." The next number is a female quartette which is roundly applauded. "The Hidden Treasure," scores nicely, and is followed by a male quartette, including himself, Tim Moore, Albert Harper and W. McConico. This number is full of comedy by Mr. Moore, the basso, and makes a big hit. Moore also gets the audience with "I Want to Come Back Home," "Jubilee in My Old Kentucky Home," by Miss Harris and company; "All About the Jungle Land," by Miss White and Dixie, by the company, and "Cannibal Queen," by Miss White and company, are the other musical pieces. As are tuff, melodious and share in the applause.

"Lost in Africa" is a typical African scene, in the home of the cannibals, where Mary Moore (Miss White), niece of old parson Jones (Harper), has been held by cannibals and made queen. She is rescued by her chum (Tim Moore). "The Hidden Treasure" (Tim), and Charlie Smooth (Mr. White), after thrilling encounters with the cannibal king (McConico), and his tribe.

Tim Moore is the comedian, and, as usual, keeps the audience in a fit of laughter.

WESTERN DRAMA NEXT WEEK
The Follies Company will present a western comedy drama next week, entitled, "Faro Day's Last Floor." This playlet will introduce all the typical western characters, including cowboys and girls, Indians, Mexicans, etc. In connection with the show there will be an olio, presenting McConico, the ventriloquist, and a sketch by Albert and Mary White, entitled, "Sal's Revenge."

Mrs. Gertie Moore, bride of Tim Moore, is appearing at the Booker Washington for the first time this week. She is making a favorable impression. She possesses grace, charm, artistry and a good singing voice.

TESTIMONIALS

Majors' Oxford College,

St. Louis, Mo.

To Whom it may concern:

Before I saw your advertisement in the St. Louis Argus, I was like a ship without a captain. I knew enough about hair work to earn a living but not enough to pass an examination before a college of hair culture. When I was asked where I learned my beauty treatments, I would shiver in my boots because I had no Oxford College to back me.

But today I am proud and happy because I am a graduate of the Oxford System and find all of my customers so well pleased. I am gaining new customers every day and must thank you again, I beg to remain,

Yours truly,

Mme. Fields-Voting, Agt.

49th and 31st St. New York City.

Majors' Oxford College,

St. Louis, Mo.

To Whom it may concern:

With many thanks for meeting the name of Oxford College, I will say that I have had some dealings with white colleges in the city of Chicago but find in the Oxford College more pleasure and better understanding than any of the others I have dealt with.

In truth I find pleasure in my work for the simple reason, your preparations have given me much satisfaction and when I am pleased with the results, I know my customers must be—at least I have found it so far.

I trust to be successful.
